

THE PHILOSOPHICAL REVIEW
CORNELL UNIVERSITY, ITHACA, NEW YORK

November 2, 1937

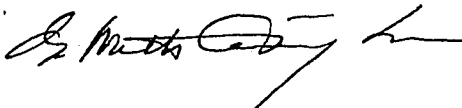

Mr. Franklin F. Wolff
San Fernando
California

Dear Mr. Wolff:

The revised statement of your manuscript on "Concept, Percept and Reality" is, we think, a great improvement over the other. We shall be glad to publish this, provided you are willing for us to use our discretion as to the date of publication. We publish articles in the order in which they are received and yours will have to take its place in our schedule. This means that the article cannot be published for some months, perhaps a year or more. If this delay is objectionable, let us know and the manuscript will be returned.

We are appreciative of your interest in the Review.

Faithfully yours,

G. Watts Cunningham

Dear Mr. Cunningham:

It will be satisfactory to me if you publish my manuscript on "Concept, Percept and Reality" at your discretion or in the order of receipt as you suggest.

Thanking you for your kind attention, I remain

Faithfully yours,
